March 2023

COS Mission Statement

A Community Gathered in Christ, Fed by God's Word, Sent to Serve...

Call Process & Update

- A congregation's Call Process contains several "mile markers" by which the journey is charted:
- A pastor announces that they are leaving the congregation.
- An interim pastor is identified, merges with congregational life, and begins to develop a sense of the congregation and a familiarity with the parishioners.
- A Mission Exploration Team (MET) is formed and works to engage the congregation in the self-learning and investigation that reveals a thorough understanding of the congregation's history and journey, the present reality of the congregation, where the congregation believes God is calling them, and what kind of pastoral leadership might best partner with them in pursuing that mission. This is the meat and potatoes of the Call Process.
- Surveys and Focus Groups have been conducted to gather congregational input on perceived needs, values, and mission.
- The MET drafts Christ Our Savior's Ministry Site Profile.
- A Town Hall Meeting is held for congregational review of the MSP, and preparing for the congregational Town Hall Meeting December
- COS is in this stage > A Call Committee is formed. COS's Call Committee is Aaron Dietz, Edie Schafner, Angie Lura, Dave Abresch, Mike Singer, and Brynn Haigh (youth rep). The COS Call Committee has received its orientation and is proceeding with its work. Please hold them in prayer.
- The Church Council receives the Call Committee's pastoral candidate recommendation.
- The congregation votes on the Church Council's recommended pastoral candidate and a call is issued.

Good Tidings in Times of Transition

The mystery of Christianity is always around the new thing that God is doing. We know such newness as it is expressed in Jesus, but that newness appears throughout scripture. Learning those stories is the foundation of our faith. God is always at work to generate new life out of seemingly dead-end situations. In truth that trait is what ensures that we are always compelled to put our trust in God rather than ourselves. We literally cannot conceive of how God is able to take what we find distasteful, have no use for, or see no value in and use that as the starting gate for new life. It is resurrection. It is grace. It is what humbles us. It is what calls us to worship and to faith. But being called to faith can feel at odds with our desire for control and for making life in the image that we prefer and reckoning with that tension is part of our growth and development as disciples.

We are not called to control, we are not called to success, we are not called to moral perfection, we are not called to respectability. In baptism we put on Christ and we are called to a life like his. A life of dying and rising. A life of being set free from those dead-end things that sink us and set us free to being new people – to being people who are gradually opened to reflect God's heart of love and mercy. In this season of Lent, what are you ready to be set free from? What are you ready to leave behind? Our trust is in the God who creates life out of the dust of the earth. What do you need God to do with the dust of your life? Regardless of what we may hope for, the new thing that occurs in us will always be beyond our conception. It will always begin in God.

In Christ,
Interim Pastor Michael Anderson

From the Associate Pastor

During our Mission Exploration process for the Ministry Site Profile, I often used the metaphor of creating a dating profile. For folks not familiar with the call process, this was a helpful way to quickly convey that we were creating something that spoke of who we are as a congregation that prospective candidates will be able to look at and get an initial sense of whether we might be a good pairing.

As our Call Committee begins its important work of interviewing candidates for our new Senior Pastor, I find myself leaning into more of the ways that the dynamics of a committed relationship apply to our experience as a congregation. When we welcome our new Senior Pastor, we will likely experience both the excitement of their new presence within our community, and also we will experience the growing pains of getting to know one another. There will be ways that we delight in the passion and gifts that they introduce to our community. And there will also be ways that we might find ourselves surprised or frustrated when we are confronted with different expectations or ways of doing things than we are accustomed to. But, for all the emotions or experiences we share as we welcome a new pastor to our congregation, our foundation remains our shared commitment to the Way of Christ.

It is our commitment to Jesus' gospel, and the leading of the Holy Spirit, that allows us to remain committed to one another, even as we might be challenged by differences in perspective or disagreements about the best way to embody faithfulness together. Much in the way that partners in committed relationships do not always see eye to eye, but are able to cling to the foundational love that holds them together through adversity, we should not be surprised as a community of faith when we experience conflict. Jesus doesn't promise us that we won't face storms as his followers – just that he will be with us in the midst of them.

May the Holy Spirit that unites us as one body in Christ, sustain and ground you in your identity as a beloved child of God. And may you recommit yourself in faithfulness to the Way of Jesus that we seek to embody together.

Blessings,
Pr. Joe

Join us for Fellowship Time!

Sundays 9:00-11:30 a.m.

After our worship services each Sunday, we have time set aside to check in with our fellow church members to see what's been happening in each other's lives. It is one of the ways that we can build a supportive church community. It is a wonderful time to slow down to have a cup of coffee or goodie off our fellowship table. Hope you will join us for conversation this month!

If you are interested in bringing a goodie for fellowship time, sign-up HERE. Please have them at church on Sunday mornings by 8:30am or drop them off on the table in the entryway on Saturday night. If you have questions, contact Marion Jaskulski at marjask5@wi.rr.com.

A Dollar a Day for the Hungry in Lent

Did you know that 1/3 of the world's population struggles to survive on the equivalent of $2 a day? During Lent each year we challenge all of our members to set aside $1 a day to feed those who struggle to get by. For most of us $1 a day is hardly a sacrifice. If that's the case for you, you are welcome to give more. $1 a day guarantees 2 nutritionally complete meals a day for those who receive help through the ELCA hunger appeal and Lutheran World Relief. Both organizations have less than 1% overhead, so every dollar we send goes to direct food aid. Imagine the difference you can make!

You can bring your $1 a day gift to church on Holy Week or send it in. Join the rest of us in making the miracle of life happen.
